

the afterlife

14.04.2021

Christianity speaks of heaven to reward the good,
But beware if you weren't fair;
You might scream in despair.
Cause you can say farewell
(Only) to burn in the fiery pits of hell.

I think heaven's pretty cool
- please excuse if I'm a fool -
But hell seems kinda cruel.

Another theory says you have to relive your life
And those memories may cut as deep as a knife.
So if you were a rebel
It might seem just like hell.

But what about different religions?
Different views? Different cues?
So one more time
Here goes another rhyme:

Some bitches claim they're witches
And I think it's pretty cool.
Not only they work with crystals
But through tarot decks they rule.

Those people are kinda rare.

Not only do they care

'Bout things like cancer, libra rising with an aries moon,

But they talk to spirit guides

About the afterlife.

Those guides and guardian angles

Affirm that god is real

And so are hell and heaven

But not like it may seem.

They say everyone goes to heaven

After they learn to love

And begin to spread peace

Like the wings of a dove.

Sinners are new souls with a lot left to learn

But don't be afraid, silly!

God loves them all.

And when the time has come,

A place in heaven they'll earn.

The guides want to show

God wants humans to acknowledge and know

That there's a higher power above us all.

And if you choose the right side

Maybe one day you'll be someone's spirit guide.

Well, this thought might appeal,
But I'm still not sure how to feel
'Cause as much as hell and heaven aren't wrong,
Guides claim reincarnation is real.

So many different theories,
So many different thoughts.
But somehow it's a puzzle
Fitting together like an unequal couple.

Now is this all real?

I have no idea.

But it all says conscious mind is based on energy;
That energy can't be destroyed, it just changes form.
But wait! Isn't that what we all learned in school?
So if this isn't true
The world'd be askew.

But as much as these are things
That you shouldn't neglect,
You can never be sure
About what comes after death.
Cause in order to know,
I guess you have to be dead.
